EMPEROR NICHOLAS HAS SURRENDERED.

The Autocracy of the Romanoffs And the Old Order of Things Cease to Exist in Russia.

THE REVOLUTION COMPLETE.

Count Witte Comes Into Power as Minister President of Real Legislative Body.

PEOPLE TO HAVE CIVIC LIBERTY.

Suffrage is to be Greatly Extended—There is to be Free Speech—Freedom of the Press.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30, 6:05 p. m.—To night the autocracy of the Romanoffs and the old order of things cease to exist in Russia. Emperor Nicholas has surrendered and Count Witte comes into power as minister-president with an imperial mandate which will enable him to convert the farcical national assembly into a real legislative body elected by greatly extended suffrage and to confer upon the people fundamental civil liberties, including free speech. These welcome tidings reached St. Petersburg shortly before 6 o'clock this evening. Count Witte had spent the day with the emperor at Peterhof going over the final draft of the manifesto to which he insisted that certain minor modifications be made and before taking the train for St. Petersburg he telephoned to a friend that the emperor had affixed his signature, and that the imperial mandate comprising the conditions upon which he had agreed to accept office was in his pocket. These include freedom of the press, the right of assembly and the immunity of the person, including the right of habeas corpus.

The official announcement issued this evening says:

"An imperial manifesto will be issued this evening, appointing Count Witte prime minister, with special authority to co-ordinate and unify the powers of the different branches of the army. Civic liberties are granted to the Russian people and to the national assembly is given legislative power, while the suffrage is enlarged."

Count Witte insisted on a cabinet on the British model with a selected premier responsible to the imperial duma, or parliament, while the emperor clung to the appointment of the members of the cabinet on the American plan by the emperor as chief of state.

The state department has instructed Charge d'Affaires Eddy, in case of emergency, to give American citizens asylum at the embassy and if necessary to charter a steamer.

Foreign Minister Lamdorff is reassuring the ambassadors by formally guaranteeing the safety of foreign residents. He announces that the government is prepared to afford them military protection in St. Petersburg and elsewhere in the event of disorders.

ST. PETERSBURG OUTWARDLY CALM.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30, 12:55 p. m.—The city continues outwardly calm, but there is the most intense excitement beneath the surface. The strike committee continues to restrain the people, this being considered the best means of attaining the ends in view, but behind the scenes the members of the committee are holding constant meeting with the leaders of the various groups and seem to be preparing for a bold stroke at the opportune moment. The committee know that an open collision would force a show of hands. The army, they say, is waiting gradually to win over to the people's cause. Only the Cossacks, who are referred to as Emperor Nicholas' "Swiss guards," are absolutely faithful to the existing regime. The Ismailovsky guard regiment, which was reported to be disaffected during the troubles of last winter, is now reported to have refused to go guard duty and is to be confined to barracks surrounded by Cossacks. An investigation by the Associated Press, however, failed to confirm the report. During the night firing occurred at the polytechnic school, where a number of students are held as prisoners. Thereupon the Cossacks fired no volleys. The result is not known. A policeman in the Vasilev Ostrov district was found dead this morning, having been murdered on his beat. Many of the police are afraid of losing their lives, and have refused to go patrol duty. Their places have been taken by foot soldiers.

The city is filled with false and sensational reports set afloat by the revolutionists.

The laws from the provinces indicate that the authorities are getting out of hand in some sections, but generally the situation is under control and is improving. In many places the students and strikers are fighting the "black hundred" as the bands of thugs are termed.

The demands of the people are increasing proportionately with the strike of the demonstration. The cry for a constituent assembly is now almost universal and the people declare that even that would not satisfy them, and argue that "there must be some lamp-post work."

On account of the food shortage even the first class restaurants have increased their prices. The minister of finance has issued an order permitting meat importation by water. The scarcity of milk is especially felt.

WARSAW RAILROAD DESTROYED.

Warsaw, Oct. 30.—A telegram received here from Moscow says the strikers have destroyed the belt railroad and two houses on Tverskaya street, one of them belonging to the government. Thousands of wealthy inhabitants of Moscow are leaving the city by every means available. The military telegraph operators are complaining of having to operate the commercial service. They declare they are too tired to perform the work.

Telegraphic communication between Warsaw and Vilna has been severed. NUMBER OF VICTIMS UNKNOWN.

Odessa, Oct. 30.—It is impossible to fix exactly the number of the strikers of yesterday's victims. The officials in charge of the hospitals, cemeteries and lock-ups are strictly forbidden to give the slightest information. The dead and wounded, whose numbers must be very considerable have been removed by the police and hidden out of sight of inquirers. The infantry of whose loyalty the authorities are doubtful, are kept in barracks and the Cossacks, mounted on horseback and armed with shotguns, are patrolling the streets to shoot down people on sight are left to deal with the crowds. At one barricaded corner yesterday a student on the appearance of the Cossacks, mounted on horseback and armed with shotguns, the barricade was broken and the student was killed. The Cossacks are trying to join the people instead of killing their brothers who were struggling for the freedom of their common country. The Cossacks answered with four volleys, killing nine and wounding about 40 persons. Scenes similar are occurring everywhere. The crowds are fleeing before the charging Cossacks, invade private houses and hide in garrets and attics. Many private apartments have been converted into temporary hospitals for the succor of wounded refugees.

HE IS EXCEEDINGLY NERVOUS.

Police Satisfied Identification Of Victim as Susan Geary Is Correct—Working on Various Clues.

Pittsburg, Oct. 30.—Morris Nathan, who was arrested at the hotel Henry last night on a charge of murder in connection with the Winthrop, Mass., suit case mystery, spent a restless night in a cell at the central police station. It was after 4 o'clock this morning he was awakened about 5 o'clock by the entrance of Detective Moore of the public safety department and several newspaper men.

"How are you, Nathan," asked Detective Moore.

"Well, I am probably as well as can be expected," replied Nathan.

"It's an unfortunate affair," said Detective Moore.

"I am in a serious position," answered Nathan.

In reply to a question from a newspaper reporter, Nathan said he was 21 years of age. He then refused to talk and made it plain that he did not appreciate the presence of the visitors.

After the press representatives withdrew, Detective Moore continued the examination of the prisoner. What he learned was not announced, but Detective James W. Egan made the positive statement that there would be some developments and that Detective W. J. Cole, his co-worker, may have something important to announce.

"Detective Cole had a talk with the prisoner and learned some important things," said Detective Egan.

After questioning Nathan further, Detective Moore was speaking.

"This is a very important arrest. The prisoner knows something of the crime. Of that I am sure."

The police officials say it is evident that Nathan is weakling.

It was also intimated that he has told Detective Cole the relations he bore to Miss Geary.

Steps have already been taken, it is said, which will lead to the location and arrest of the physician supposed to be implicated.

Supt. of Detectives McQuaid says Nathan will be held until the arrival of an officer from Boston who is expected here tonight.

The prisoner, he added, will return to Massachusetts without requisition papers.

A PERILOUS VOYAGE.

Brigantine Aloha Has Rough Time Crossing the Atlantic.

New York, Oct. 30.—After one of the most perilous voyages any yacht of the New York Yacht club has had in years, Commodore A. C. James' brigantine Aloha, an auxiliary craft, sailed into port yesterday.

The Aloha had been out at cruise along the coast of Scotland and Ireland, and had landed Commodore James and his guests at Southampton, and then started on the return trip on Oct. 5. She had hardly been 24 hours out when she encountered such a heavy gale that she was forced to "lay to" for four days. About midnight, Oct. 14, just after the starboard hatch had gone below, the vessel ran into a terrific sea.

Chief Officer Jacobson sent three men to furl the outer jib. They had hardly started up when a heavy sea swept over the yacht, striking it with such fury that Andre Andersen, a Scandinavian seaman, was carried into the ocean. Andersen is a burly fellow and the best swimmer of the crew. He kept afloat for 20 minutes when he was rescued by the crew and hauled him aboard, weak but uninjured.

ARTIST RASCOVITCH DEAD.

Said He Wouldn't Die Until He Finished Piece of Work; he Didn't.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—"I will not die until I have finished that chest," was the promise made a short time ago by Robert B. Rascovitich, water color artist and wood carver, who died yesterday of a stroke of apoplexy.

The chest, which was a carved piece of furniture, designed to contain a bridal trousseau. It was started a few months ago, and shortly afterward the artist died.

True to his word, however, the wood carver stuck to his task, although growing daily weaker, until he saw his creation practically completed. Then he laid down his tools, believing that his masterpiece in the branch of art would survive. The work proved his last.

One of Mr. Rascovitich's paintings, "A Canal in Venice," received prize at the World fair in 1893. He was born in Dalmatia in 1853, studied art in the schools of Vienna and Paris, and then took up his residence in Italy, where he made a study of the old masters. He came to Chicago in 1893 and opened a studio.

One of the artist's best known works in Chicago is the memorial presented to the widow of his orchestra.

Peace Society Services.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—The Chicago Peace society conducted the service last night at the Centenary Methodist church.

When Mrs. H. W. Thomas, wife of the president of the program, waved a salute to the success of the Russian revolutionists and exclaimed in a loud voice:

"I hope they will win," the audience responded with a handclapping chorus. Mrs. Thomas explained that the motive of organizing peace societies is to federate them permanently into a more perfect world organization.

Mr. Shinzui, the Japanese consul, talked a few minutes on the international peace movement. After reviewing the recent war, he said:

"I congratulate you on having at the head of this nation a man who is for peace, a man so noble and Christlike as Theodore Roosevelt."

Dr. Thomas, president of the society, outlined an original plan for an international peace congress and court. His plan is for all nations of the world to select a "supreme court" to settle all disputes between nations and with power to enforce its orders.

REV. H. D. FISHER OF BALDWIN, KANSAS, DEAD.

Was Famous Character in Border Warfare—Refused Appointment as U. S. Senator to Succeed "Jim" Lane.

Kansas City, Oct. 30.—Rev. H. D. Fisher, who died yesterday at Baldwin, Kan., was one of the most famous characters produced by the trying days of the border warfare in Kansas, and the subsequent four years of civil war.

Because of his activity as a free state duffer, he was expelled from the United States Senate "Jim" Lane, Rev. Fisher was marked by the Quaker band, and his escape from capture and death during the Lawrence massacre is one of the most thrilling and remarkable incidents of that affair.

Dr. Fisher was one of the few men who ever refused a United States senatorship. When Senator Lane committed suicide, Dr. Crawford announced his intention of appointing Dr. Fisher to fill the vacancy. Later Rev. Fisher said, in relating his reasons for refusing the offer:

"My wife and I laid the matter before God in prayer. The decision was against accepting the appointment."

For many years he has been a member of the Kansas conference. From 1880 to 1884 he was superintendent of the American Bible society for Utah, Montana and Idaho. During his stay in the far west, John Taylor, the "Mormon" leader, extended to him an invitation to speak in the "Mormon" churches in the states in which he worked.

He provided with photographs of the dead woman. Detectives are scouring this city in efforts to trace the movements of Miss Geary from the time she was last seen by her mother at her home in Cambridge, on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 19. At that time she left saying she was going to join the "Shepherd King" company, with which she was connected on her trip to Lowell.

The police have learned from members of the company that the young woman did not join them, she failed to appear at the opening performance in Lowell but the management received a note signed ostensibly by a doctor saying Miss Geary was too ill to fill her place.

The name signed to the note was "P. H. Smith, M. D., Boston."

One of the most important features of the work of the police today was the effort to establish the identity of the writer of the missive. The name apparently was fictitious there being no P. H. Smith among the registered physicians of Boston.

It was recalled today that a doctor whose name had been given to the police in connection with the purchase of suit case, which held the dismembered body, had left the city and that two weeks ago, in a hotel he privately met the pawnbroker who sold one of the suit cases. After the meeting it was announced that the broker had failed to identify the doctor as the purchaser of the articles. Later the pawnbroker stated that while he had not identified the doctor as his customer there were many points of resemblance. The police today would not indicate whether steps had been taken to locate the doctor.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

Alleged Embezzlement Case Properly Adjusted and Dismissed.

The case of the state vs. John J. Wallace, charged with embezzling the sum of $30 from Dr. G. G. Odell, which has been pending in Judge Diehl's court for several days, has finally been settled without the necessity of the court adjudicating the matter.

The complaint alleged that Mr. Wallace, who collected for the doctor, appropriated $30 unlawfully. Considerable testimony was taken and the defense proposed to show that the amount involved was due to Mr. Wallace on account of a contract with the doctor. Mr. Odell disputed this, but yesterday the interested persons held a meeting at which an amicable settlement was made and the charge was dropped. This morning the case was dismissed by Judge Diehl on motion of the prosecution.

WILSON'S WOUNDS MAY PROVE FATAL.

Man Shot by Jesse Thomas Saturday Night in a Very Critical Condition.

Reports from the L. D. S. hospital this morning concerning the condition of Harry Wilson, the young colored man who was shot Saturday night by "Dirty" Jesse Thomas, in a commercial street corner gambling dive, indicate that Wilson can not live long, although his condition since the shooting has remained practically the same. No operations for the removal of the bullet have been made, and it is extremely doubtful if one would be successful. The physicians now believe that the patient will die.

School Officers Enforcing Law Relating To Compulsory Attendance.

The law compelling compulsory attendance at school of all children between the ages of 8 and 16 years is being forcibly brought to the attention of a number of pupils and their parents during last week with the result that the school officers have succeeded in compelling the attendance of about 40 children who had heretofore been at work and absented themselves from school.

It is the intention of the school officials to keep up the good work until every child of school age in the city is in attendance at some school. It is very probable that some of the children and perhaps their parents will have to be hauled before the juvenile court before they realize that the officials mean business, as some of them don't seem to pay much attention to the demands of the truant officer.
